

WELCOME!

While we are getting set up....

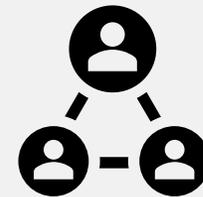

We would like to get to know our audience.
Please put your answer to the following questions in the chat.

1. Which organization are you with?

2. What is your role?

3. What is your motivation for or interest in attending today's webinar?

Health Equity and Cancer: Mini-Series

Session 2:

The Cancer Survivor Perspective

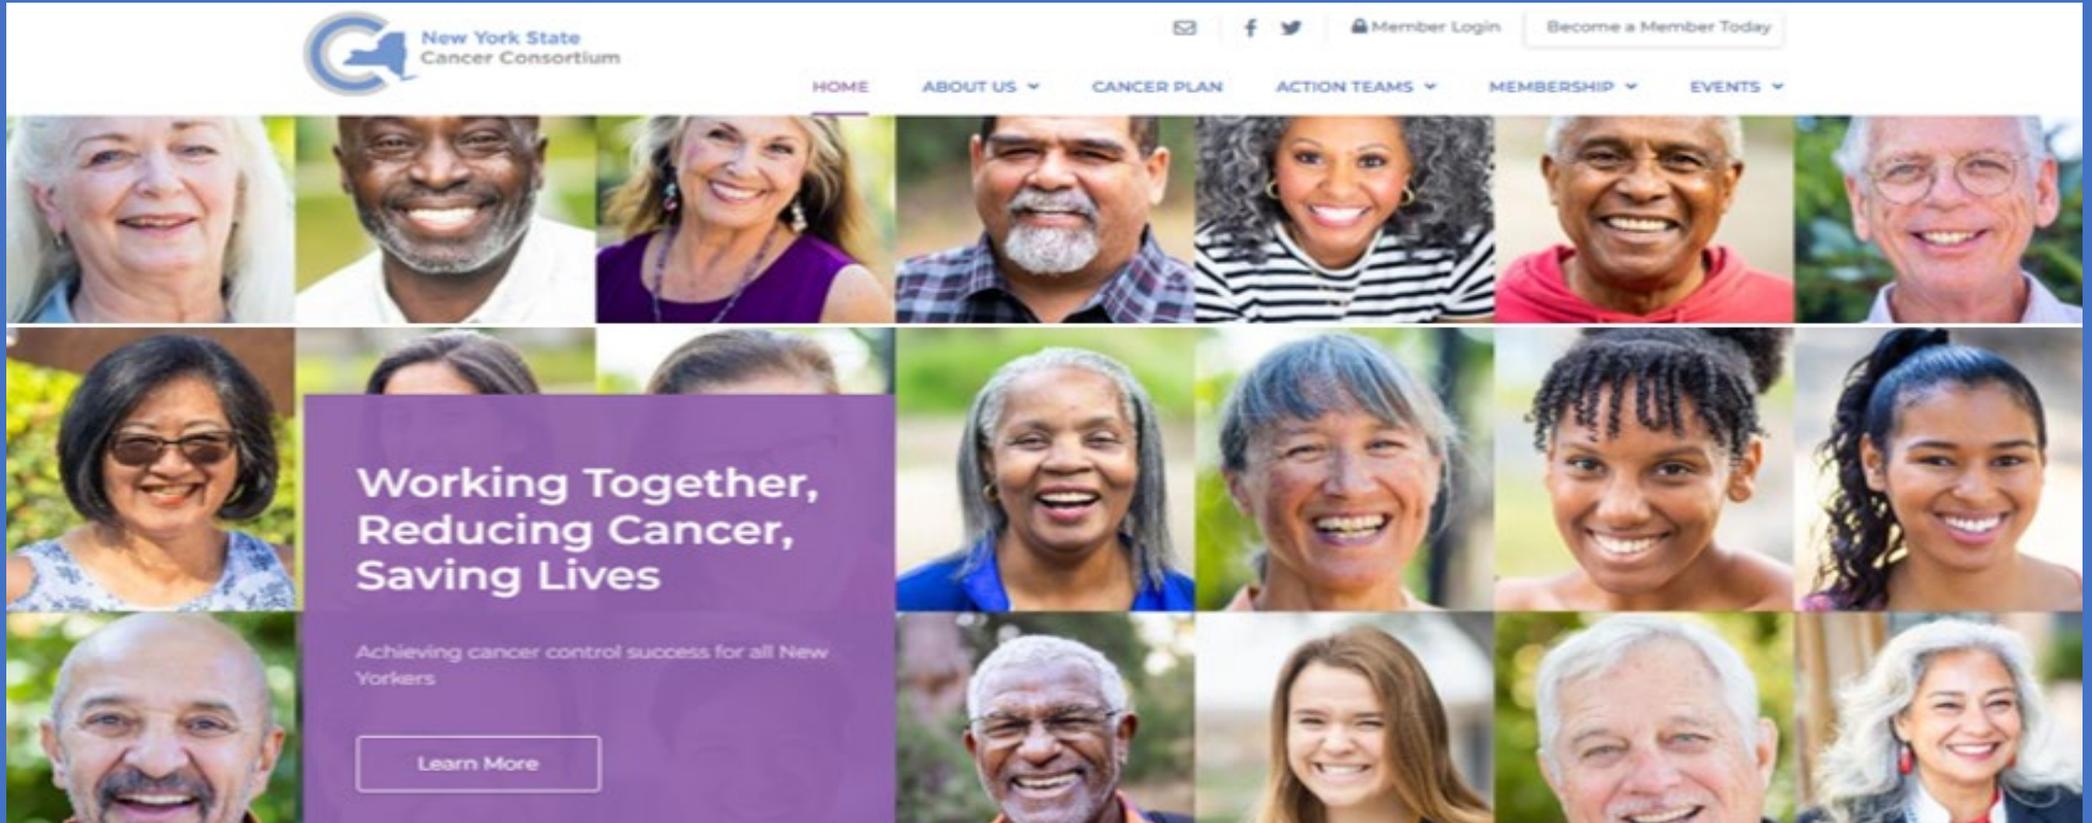

November 20, 2025 | 11 AM – 12 PM

NYSCC QUARTERLY MEETING SERIES

www.nyscancerconsortium.org

We are New Yorkers from all walks of life who work together to reduce the burden of cancer.

Member Area | New York State Cancer Consortium

Session Goal:

- To highlight the survivor's perspective in cancer survivorship, including barriers encountered and resources to address them.

Housekeeping

Please mute your line.

If you have a question, please type it in the Chat Box.

Questions will be answered after the panel discussion.

This meeting is being recorded.

A link to the recording will be e-mailed to everyone who registered.

Health Equity and Cancer: Mini-Series

Upcoming Sessions

- Session 3: Palliative Care
TBD

Events | New York State Cancer Consortium

Pre-Meeting Poll

1. Rate your knowledge of the cancer survivor perspective before the webinar.

- Extremely knowledgeable
- Very knowledgeable
- Moderately knowledgeable
- Slightly knowledgeable
- Not at all knowledgeable

Health Equity and Cancer: Mini-Series

Session 2:

The Cancer Survivor Perspective

REMINDER

As the panelists are speaking and responding to questions, please feel free to share your own perspectives, stories, resources, and questions through the chat. Due to the session length and what we are covering today, we ask that everyone remain muted, but the hosts and panelists would still love to hear from everyone via the chat box!

Meet Our Panelists

Jennie H. Flanagan is a seasoned healthcare professional, holding the title of Registered Nurse (RN), Certified Clinical Research Professional, and a Master's in Healthcare Administration (MHA). In her current role as Chief Operating Officer, Jennie actively participates as an Advisory Member with the University of Maryland through the PCORI network. Her work continues to shape the future of healthcare, embodying a dedication to excellence, compassion, and progressive change. Jennie actively participates in numerous healthcare committees, memberships/board of directors, and task forces.

In her current role as Chief Operating Officer, Jennie actively participates as an Advisory Member with the University of Maryland through the PCORI network. Her work continues to shape the future of healthcare, embodying a dedication to excellence, compassion, and progressive change.

As a two-time survivor of breast cancer, one of her main priorities is to mentor/advocate for others with cancer.

Megan-Claire Chase is the Breast Cancer Program Director and host of the Our BC Life podcast at SHARE Cancer Support. A survivor of invasive lobular carcinoma (ILC), she is a fierce patient advocate based in Atlanta, GA, with a deep commitment to addressing the disparities faced by breast cancer patients in minoritized communities and the adolescent and young adult (AYA) population.

In her leadership role at SHARE, Megan-Claire develops and drives educational programming, elevating patient voices and tailoring support to those often under-resourced. Her advocacy extends beyond SHARE through her work on Bayer Oncology's Digital Patient Council, the Oncology Data Advisor Editorial Board, and Worth the Wait Charity's Fertility Advisory Board. She is also a contributing writer and Patient Advisory Board Member for Patient Power, using her voice to amplify the lived experiences of those impacted by breast cancer.

Post-Meeting Poll

1. Rate your knowledge of the cancer survivor perspective now after the webinar.

- Extremely knowledgeable
- Very knowledgeable
- Moderately knowledgeable
- Slightly knowledgeable
- Not at all knowledgeable

2. What one thing did you find most valuable from this session? (open-ended)

Question & Answer

Join the Consortium! and look out for upcoming meetings

Events | New York State Cancer Consortium

Thank you for Attending

cancerconsortium@health.ny.gov

New York State

Cancer Consortium

